Vent-A-Hood makes Mode Distributing official distributor

RICHARDSON, Texas (May 25, 2016) – Vent-A-Hood, the company that created the modern residential range hood, has announced that Mode Distributing will be the official Vent-A-Hood distributor in the territories of Arizona and Clark County, Nevada, effective June 1.

Based in Anaheim, Calif., Mode Distributing is a premier kitchen appliance distributor that provides luxury products to appliance retailers throughout the southwestern United States. The Mode Distributing experience includes trained territory managers who specialize in product knowledge and technical support, showrooms that offer a hands-on learning opportunity, and inside sales support that provides responses to any questions customers might have.

“At Vent-A-Hood we have enjoyed a very successful relationship with Mode Distributing for other regions over the years,” said James Adams, Vice President of Sales at Vent-A-Hood. “They have demonstrated excellent customer service, and we look forward to extending that level of attention to appliance retailers and their customers across Arizona and Nevada.”
